Celeste Ford has been accepted for membership in the Council on Foreign Relations

Palo Alto, CA –

Stellar Solutions is pleased to announce that Celeste Ford has been accepted for membership in the Council on Foreign Relations.

Founded in 1921, the Council on Foreign Relations is an independent, national membership organization and nonpartisan center for scholars dedicated to producing and disseminating ideas so that individual and corporate members, as well as policymakers, journalists, students, and interested citizens in the United States and other countries, can better understand the world and foreign policy choices facing the United States and other governments. The Council does this by convening meetings; conducting a wide-ranging Studies Program; publishing Foreign Affairs, the preeminent journal covering international affairs and U.S. foreign policy; maintaining a diverse membership; sponsoring Independent Task Forces; and providing up-to-date information about the world and U.S. foreign policy on the Council's website. You can learn more about the Council on Foreign Relations at <http://www.cfr.org/about/>

Membership in Council on Foreign Relations is prestigious and by invitation only. Membership in the Council will give Ms. Ford access to influential and important national and international policymakers.

The National Association of Women Business Owners Silicon Valley is a comprehensive and diverse association of CEOs and Executive Officers of women owned businesses serving a membership in the greater bay area.

Through education, partnerships, alliances and affiliations with leading universities and fortune 500 companies we provide leadership opportunities and business expertise to our membership.
